

Chimeras' Dream

by Chris Pratt

The intention of operators in this art is this: to purge the Sound in diverse ways: by sublimating it, by the adjunction of oscillations, some with various shapes, while others vivify it solely by itself; and they assert to have wrought, by the repetition of these operations, the Resonance of Matter. But they err, for they do not operate according to nature. For she amends things only in their own Nature. Let them therefore know, that our sonics, though composed of multiple things, is nevertheless One thing wrought from diverse Substances coagulated from one single Essence. Truly, in her Transmutation is firstly, the Wiard, whose effect is one of chaos, secondly, the Maths, to generate the functions; thirdly, the two Complex sisters Prismatic, fourthly, the bond of the Kyma, whose spectral qualities confound all but the keenest observer. Thus, the fixed is made volatile for a time, that it may afterwards attain a more noble hereditary state, in which it will achieve a most powerful fixity through the lens of a Refractor.....
